27th ASCVTS & 65th IACTSCON

Dear friend,

Chennai welcomes you to its bosom of culture and history as it hosts the combined Asian Indian Conference of the ASCVTS (27th) and IACTS (65th) from 21st to 24th February at the Hotel ITC Grand Chola.

Explore the avenues of advances in the scientific arena pertaining to cardiovascular & thoracic surgery as it unravels itself through the voices of the leaders from around the globe.

The venue itself is designed to incorporate the flavors of the Cholas in sculpture and decor and transports one into the 11th century. The one and a half millennia of what the subcontinent and the neighboring countries experienced bundled into an exciting enriching milieu provides a healthy environment for learning, interaction and debate.

A tightly packed yet delicious city offers a quaint combination of wholesome culinary delights, buildings from the colonial era and a marina shielding a raging sea. A city to explore both for the brave and adventurous as well as the tender hearted and quiet peace seekers, it promises to engulf, enliven and energize.

We hope the 2019 experience would be one that would linger in your memories for a long long time.
